GLOW WORM TOURS

What are Glow Worms?

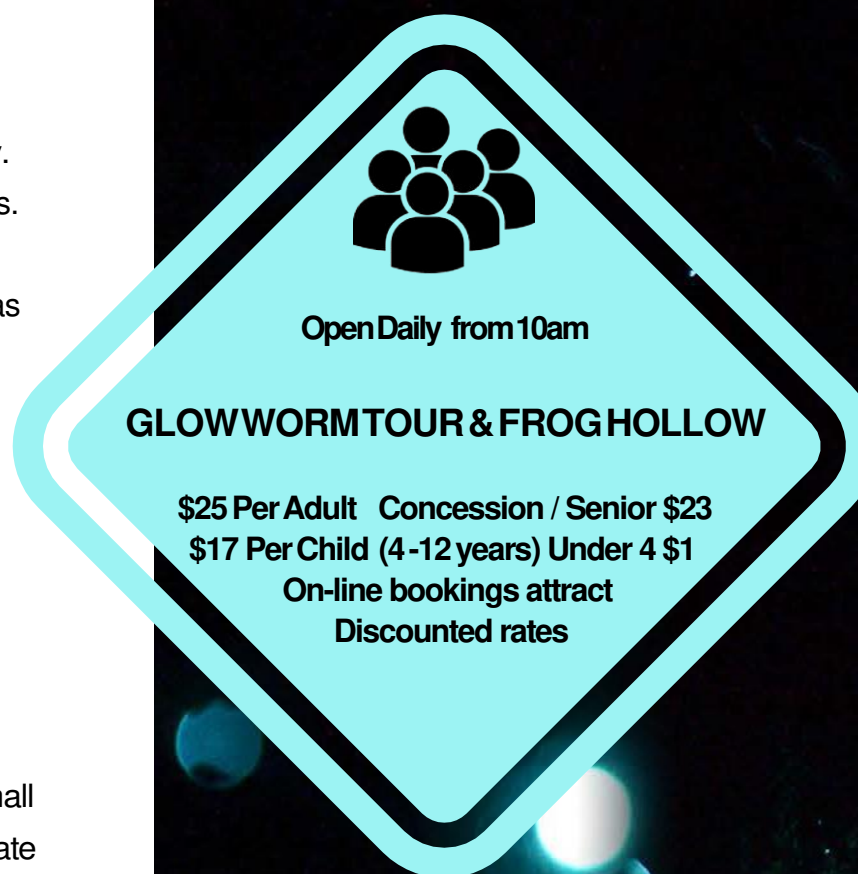

Glow Worms are the larvae (immature stage) of a small fly. The larval stage is the only stage in their life cycle that glows. The glow worms in this sanctuary are the local species, Arachnocampa flava, which are found only in rainforest areas of southeast Queensland.

Rainforest habitats in Australia are shrinking due to climate change and human impact. Our glow worm sanctuary provides ideal conditions for the glow worms within a controlled environment, therefore, decreasing negative impacts on our local rainforest.

Also available as a self-guided activity is Frog Hollow, a small wildlife exhibit with several locally found frog and invertebrate species on display.
